RYAN VARNES 68 FOUNDATION - Ryan Varnes was a third generation motorcycle racer that lost his life doing what he loved...racing motorcycles. Though Ryan competed professionally on a national level, he still made time to come for the fun & competitive events at Sandy Hook Speedway. The foundation was formed to commemorate Ryan. Ryan understood the importance of education. Even while racing professionally in American Flat Track, he made education the priority in his life. It was his "primary job." It was only after graduating from Penn State Berks that racing took over that primary spot.

The goal of the Ryan Varnes 68 Foundation is to help those racers who are continuing to pursue their higher educational goals. Our hope is that via the process of their education, we will have successfully aided racers looking to become better students and better people.
